Concept Note

"There is no chance for the welfare of the world unless the situation of women is improved."

-Swami Vivekananda

India is rapidly transforming to emerge as a superpower in 21st century. Though it has progressed in all the sectors ranging from Nanotechnology to the space technology, it still faces some challenges which are needed to be addressed immediately, one of such an issue which is worrying progressive Indian society is gender discrimination. Women still viewed as substandard and subordinate to man in Indian society. Indian constitution has emphasised the rights of women on par with the men. But still women are facing social, political, cultural and economic challenges due to lack of synchronization and coordination of various agencies. Despite all this hurdles women are making progress in all walks of life and leading the world to a new era. This seminar will focus on the various issues that women face in all spheres of life. This seminar throws light upon several challenges faced by Indian women and why there is still requirement for their advancement. It will concentrate on the steps taken by the government and portray suggestions for their development.

About Maharashtra National Law University, Aurangabad

Maharashtra National Law University, Aurangabad (MNLU-A) came into existence on March 16, 2017. It is an independent and autonomous institution created under the Maharashtra National Law University Act, 2014. The State of Maharashtra realizing the importance of quality legal education and need of well-trained law graduates to the Bar, Bench and various professions took a very bold decision by creating the third National Law University in the state, after Mumbai and Nagpur. The commencement of the university has fulfilled the need and aspirations of the people of Marathwada region for an institution of national importance in Aurangabad. MNLU-Aurangabad aims at disseminating learning as well as imparting knowledge of law and legal process for the cause of national welfare and development.

Vision

- To advance and disseminate learning and knowledge of law and legal process and their role in national development.
- To develop in the students and research scholars, a sense of responsibility.
- To serve society in the field of law by developing skills in regard to advance, legal services, legislation and law reforms.
